Christians are funny people. We have every reason to be unflappable and joyful every moment of our day. And yet, we often seem to be the wet blanket at the party, the most serious, the most worried and stressed out. Not many of us have been branded “the life of the party.” Is that the way God intends it? What are we truly called to be like, to act like, to sound like, and how can we truly answer the call? Are we willing to give up our worry and struggle?

What are some synonyms for Calmly Happy?

What is the New Testament (Greek) word for Calmly Happy?

How is that word often translated into English?

In what circumstances are we told to be Calmly Happy?

With which part do you struggle the most? The Happy or the Calmly?

Are you willing to make a change? Be honest! 😊

You also, as living stones, are being built up as a spiritual house for a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.
